Scholarship Announcement—Extended to Feb 5

The VFRBG is offering three remaining scholarships at $150.00 each toward registration for our 2024 Conference in Story, Wyoming, June 20-22, 2024.

Scholarships are available to all VFRBG members who will be attending the conference except the Board of Directors. The $150 can be credited to the $250 registration only.

Beginner, intermediate, advanced, braiders are welcome to apply for the scholarship, and this includes teachers at the conference.

Scholarships can only be received by individuals every three years, so if you have previously received a scholarship, it must be 3 years ago to apply.

To Apply: Write an email to Kris McDermet at kmcdernet1@gmail.com with answers to the following questions. Each application will be reviewed by the Scholarship Committee Chair, the guild's President, and the guild's Treasurer only. Your application and any scholarship received is kept private among these three officers only.

Question 1: Why would you like to attend the VFRBG Conference in Story, Wyoming?

Question 2: How do you plan to use your new braiding skills? (For your own use, to teach others, or for another reason ... all answers are acceptable).

If you receive the scholarship, you will be notified by email with a coupon code to receive the scholarship during registration, which opens February 1. We ask that after the conference: you write about your experience and send that to Kris McDermet. Your information will be shared with the committee anonymously and will help us determine what kind of scholarships we should offer in the future.

Please respond by February 5, 2024.
